Please help us help a friend. A group of us (4 in total) will be challenging ourselves to do the Three Peaks challenge from the 8th – 10th May 2010. We will be hiking up the three highest mountains in Scotland, England and Wales to raise money for our friend, David Robinson, who was diagnosed as having a brain tumour at the age of 17. The type was Medulloblastoma, a very rare but very aggressive tumour and was found to be in the back of the brain.

A total of £100,000 needs to be raised to send David on a clinical trial at The Duke hospital in Durham, North Carolina, USA as long as his symptoms remain stable following current chemotherapy treatment. The treatment is a biological gene treatment for adults suffering from a recurrent Medulloblastoma (the brain tumour David has).
